I am writing to apply for the Customer Support Specialist position at Velsera. Your mission to accelerate medicine by removing friction in research and clinical workflows is something I find genuinely compelling. I am drawn to roles where clear communication and technical understanding come together to solve real problems for people.

My professional background is in software engineering, where I have spent years building and maintaining web applications. What this has taught me is that technology is only as good as the support behind it. I have worked directly with end users, gathered requirements, diagnosed issues, and communicated solutions clearly across technical and non-technical teams. These experiences have given me a practical understanding of how to listen carefully, ask the right questions, and resolve problems efficiently.

In my previous work as a Web Developer, I frequently acted as the bridge between users and developers. I handled bug reports, feature requests, and deployment issues, often explaining complex technical concepts in plain language. I learned that patience, clarity, and follow-through matter more than technical jargon when helping someone solve a problem.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I have attached my CV for your review. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my communication skills and technical background can contribute to the Velsera team.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
