I am writing to apply for the VP Strategic Customer Programs role at Karbon. Karbon's position as a leader in AI-powered practice management software for accounting firms is impressive, and I am drawn to the challenge of leading a high-stakes, multi-workstream program that will shape how the company scales into enterprise-tier deployments.

My professional experience has centered on delivering complex technical projects with clear accountability for outcomes. At Explo-IT, I designed and developed scalable web applications using Laravel and Next.js, built and integrated RESTful APIs, and implemented authentication, role-based access control, and secure payment gateways. I also optimized application performance through query tuning, caching strategies, and database indexing. These projects required managing cross-functional collaboration, tracking dependencies, and ensuring on-time delivery.

A relevant example is my work on the Multivendor E-commerce Management Ecosystem, a full-stack platform connecting customers, sellers, delivery agents, and logistics teams. This project involved coordinating multiple role-based applications with a centralized Laravel backend, integrating real-time notifications, payment processing, and cloud infrastructure. I was responsible for the end-to-end delivery, from architecture design to deployment, and I regularly communicated progress and risks to stakeholders.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I have attached my CV for your review and would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my background in program delivery and technical leadership can contribute to Karbon's strategic customer programs.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
