I am writing to apply for the Junior E-Commerce Manager position at Cyrus Digital GmbH. Your focus on training junior talent from the ground up and your work with well-known D2C brands like Luxusbetten24 and Pammys caught my attention. I am looking for a role where I can build real expertise in performance marketing, and your structured development path aligns with that goal.

Through my work as a web developer, I have developed a strong analytical approach to problem-solving. I have worked extensively with data, tracked system performance, and made optimization decisions based on measurable outcomes. This experience has given me genuine comfort working with numbers and a careful, detail-oriented work style that fits well with campaign management and optimization.

One area that particularly interests me is the opportunity to gradually take ownership of real accounts. In my previous projects, I have taken full responsibility for delivering features end to end, from planning through deployment. I am used to working independently, communicating clearly with stakeholders, and continuously improving based on feedback and results.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I am ready to relocate to Munich and fully commit to this development path. I have attached my CV for your review and would welcome the chance to discuss how I can contribute to your team.

Best regards, Md Shahanur Islam Shagor

Sincerely,
