I am writing to apply for the Junior Marketing Manager Sweden position at Mammutmarsch UG. Your mission to inspire people to push their limits and build a movement around extreme hiking resonates with me. I am looking for an opportunity where I can take ownership, work independently, and help build something new in a new market.

My professional background is in software engineering, where I have spent years working independently, solving problems creatively, and taking full ownership of projects from start to finish. I am used to identifying opportunities, building systems from scratch, and collaborating across teams to achieve results. I believe this mindset translates directly into the kind of initiative and ownership this role requires.

What stands out to me about Mammutmarsch is the focus on building a brand and community in Sweden from the ground up. I am drawn to the challenge of developing local marketing ideas, building partnerships, and executing campaigns across social media and other channels. I am comfortable working closely with a central team while taking responsibility for local execution.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I am ready to take responsibility, try new ideas, and help build Mammutmarsch into a real movement in Sweden. I have attached my CV for your review and look forward to the possibility of contributing to your team.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
