I am writing to apply for the Sales Assistant position at Endureed by Global Innovation. The role's focus on providing structured, accurate, and dependable support to the VP of Global Sales aligns with how I approach my work. I am drawn to positions where precision, follow-through, and team coordination are valued over individual visibility.

While my professional background is in software engineering, the core strengths I have developed are directly applicable to this role. Over the past few years, I have worked in remote, cross-functional teams where clear communication, task tracking, and reliable delivery were essential. I have managed multiple project streams simultaneously, coordinated with stakeholders across different departments, and ensured that documentation and data remained accurate and up to date.

One area where I have consistently focused is on creating order from complexity. In my development work, I have designed systems that required careful data management, pipeline tracking, and coordination between frontend and backend teams. These experiences have trained me to stay calm under pressure, follow established processes, and take ownership of tasks without needing reminders.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I have attached my CV for your review. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my organizational skills and dependable work style can support the Endureed sales team.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
