I am writing to apply for the Marketing Managerin role at ivyclip. Your approach to reinventing a simple product like the hair clip and scaling it to over 10,000 orders in six months is impressive. I am interested in contributing to your next growth phase.

My professional background is in software engineering, where I have spent over four years building and launching digital products. I have developed full-stack web applications, managed content systems, and implemented user engagement features. This experience has given me a strong understanding of how digital platforms work, how users interact with them, and how to optimize for growth.

One area that particularly interests me is content strategy and creator programs. In my previous work, I built platforms that required managing user-generated content, implementing real-time notifications, and designing workflows for multiple stakeholders. I am comfortable thinking about hooks, formats, and campaigns from a technical and creative perspective.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I have attached my CV for your review. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how I can contribute to ivyclip’s growth.

Best regards, Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
