I am writing to apply for the Freelance Social Copywriter position at Milk Makeup. Your brand's focus on creativity, self-expression, and community-driven beauty aligns with how I approach communication and collaboration in my work.

Although my professional background is in software engineering, I have consistently relied on strong writing and editing skills to document complex systems, communicate with stakeholders, and craft clear, user-facing content. I understand the discipline of writing concisely and with purpose, whether for technical documentation or social copy.

I am drawn to the collaborative nature of this role. Working closely with an editorial team to ensure copy aligns with brand strategy and product positioning requires both precision and adaptability. I am comfortable with feedback loops, tight deadlines, and the iterative process of refining content until it is right.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I am available Monday-Friday with a flexible schedule and can commit up to 20 hours per week. I have attached my CV for your review and would welcome the opportunity to discuss how I can support the Milk Makeup editorial team.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
