I am writing to apply for the Senior Product Marketing Manager position at SPREAD GmbH. Your mission to build engineering intelligence for the world's most complex products, serving automotive OEMs, defense primes, and industrial manufacturers, is exactly the kind of technically deep challenge I want to contribute to.

My background is in full-stack engineering and AI, with professional experience building and deploying scalable web applications using Laravel, Next.js, React, and Node.js. I have worked extensively with AI-native tools, including OpenAI and Replicate APIs, and I integrate AI into my daily workflow for content creation, research, and automation. This technical fluency allows me to hold credible conversations about data architectures, API design, and software-defined systems.

One area that particularly interests me is translating complex technical products into narratives that resonate with engineering leaders. In my previous roles, I have partnered with product and engineering teams to define positioning, build sales enablement assets, and communicate technical value to non-technical stakeholders. I understand how to turn engineering intelligence into messaging that shortens enterprise sales cycles.

Through my work on projects like the AI-powered financial app and the real-time server health monitoring dashboard, I have developed a strong instinct for competitive intelligence and differentiation. I track competing solutions, articulate unique value in the buyer's language, and prepare teams for live objection handling. I am comfortable representing technical products at industry events and customer conversations.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I have attached my CV for your review and look forward to the opportunity to discuss how I can help SPREAD position its platform for enterprise success.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
