I am writing to apply for the Senior Growth Manager position at Purefemm, a D2C subscription brand in the women's health space. The mission of building a sustainable subscription brand rather than a traditional e-commerce store is something I find genuinely compelling. I have experience building full-stack platforms that support subscription models, customer funnels, and data-driven growth.

My technical background is in full-stack development and AI engineering. I have built several production-ready platforms that required me to think beyond just code and consider the entire user journey from landing pages and checkout flows to retention and lifecycle management. For example, I developed a multivendor e-commerce ecosystem using Laravel and MySQL that connected customers, sellers, and logistics teams within a unified system. I also built an AI-powered real estate platform that included subscription plans, role-based access control, and Stripe payment integration.

One area that particularly interests me is the emphasis on data-driven decision making and funnel optimization. In my professional experience as a Web Developer, I built and integrated RESTful APIs, implemented secure authentication and payment gateways, and optimized application performance through query tuning and caching strategies. I am comfortable analyzing KPIs, running experiments, and making decisions based on data rather than intuition.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I have attached my CV for your review. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my background in building scalable digital platforms can contribute to Purefemm's growth engine.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
