I am writing to apply for the Peer Specialist Maternal Health position at Canopie. The work you are doing to build a more inclusive and responsive model of perinatal care is meaningful, and I appreciate the emphasis on lived experience alongside clinical expertise.

What draws me to this role is the focus on peer support grounded in real understanding rather than direction. I have strong interpersonal and communication skills, and I approach conversations with warmth and without judgment. I am comfortable working in a fully virtual environment and can build genuine connections through phone, video, and secure messaging.

I am reliable, organized, and responsive in remote settings. I can follow structured workflows while keeping interactions authentic. I also have experience working with diverse and underserved populations, and I am fluent in Bengali and English with working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, which helps me connect with individuals from different backgrounds.

I understand the importance of recognizing when additional support is needed and following defined escalation pathways. I am committed to helping members feel seen, heard, and empowered to make decisions that align with their own values and circumstances.

I have attached my CV for your review. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my background and approach align with the needs of your team.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
