I am writing to apply for the Senior Health Copywriter position at Nature Heart. Your focus on communicating the science behind high-quality health and nature products in a way that is both compelling and compliant is something I find genuinely interesting.

My background is in software engineering, but a significant part of my work has involved research, technical documentation, and translating complex information for different audiences. For example, in my research on the Wireless Vision-Aid for the Blind (WVAB), I was responsible for explaining the technical architecture of a YOLOv8n-based object detection system, its real-time UDP streaming protocol, and its multilingual audio feedback in a clear and accessible manner. This required distilling complex AI and hardware concepts into understandable language for both technical and non-technical stakeholders.

I also have hands-on experience building full-stack web applications where content presentation and user engagement were critical. I have worked on SEO optimization, created landing pages, and developed content management systems. My technical background gives me a strong understanding of how to structure content for both human readers and AI-driven search systems, which aligns with your need for GEO-optimized content.

In addition to my technical and writing experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I am confident that my research discipline, technical writing skills, and ability to quickly master new domains would allow me to contribute effectively to your team. I have attached my CV for your review and look forward to the possibility of discussing how I can help communicate the value of Nature Heart’s products.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
