I am writing to apply for the (Senior) Website Analyst â E-Commerce Management position at IONOS SE. IONOS's role as a leading European digitalization partner for small and medium businesses is impressive, and the opportunity to work at the intersection of data, product, and business in a high-traffic e-commerce environment is exactly the kind of challenge I am looking for.

My background is in full-stack web development, with a focus on building and optimizing data-driven web applications. I have a strong command of core web technologies such as HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, which I have used extensively to create responsive, user-facing interfaces. This technical foundation gives me a practical understanding of how client-side and server-side tracking mechanisms work, and how data quality can be impacted at every stage of the user journey.

Through my professional experience as a Web Developer, I have worked on projects that required me to think analytically about user behavior and system performance. I have built RESTful APIs, optimized database queries with MySQL and PostgreSQL, and implemented real-time features using WebSockets. These experiences have taught me to approach data not just as numbers, but as indicators of user friction and opportunities for optimization. I am comfortable working with SQL for data extraction and analysis, and I understand the importance of clean, reliable data for making sound business decisions.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I have attached my CV for your review. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my analytical mindset and web development experience can contribute to the IONOS e-commerce team.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
