I am writing to apply for the Event Director position at Anheuser-Busch. While my professional background is in software engineering, the core skills required for this roleâ project coordination, stakeholder communication, timeline management, and cross-functional collaborationâ are ones I have developed and applied consistently throughout my career.

In my previous work as a Web Developer, I was responsible for delivering full-stack applications from planning through deployment. This involved coordinating with product owners, designers, and engineering teams to align on requirements, set realistic deadlines, and ensure deliverables met quality standards. I learned to manage competing priorities, communicate trade-offs clearly, and keep projects moving forward even when unexpected challenges arose.

One area that particularly interests me is the opportunity to apply my organizational and problem-solving abilities in a new domain. I am comfortable working remotely, managing my time independently, and maintaining clear communication across distributed teams. I have experience using tools like Git, project management platforms, and real-time collaboration systems to keep work transparent and accountable.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I have attached my CV for your review. Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
