I am writing to apply for the CRM IT Projekt Manager position at Sandra Lochmann. The opportunity to work with a leading European CRM/CX software company that combines modern technology with practical innovation in customer relationship management, marketing automation, and machine learning is genuinely compelling.

My background is in software engineering and project delivery. Over the past four years, I have worked across the full development lifecycle, from gathering requirements and designing architecture to deployment and stakeholder communication. I have led technical projects involving Laravel, Next.js, React, and Node.js, where coordinating cross-functional teams and managing timelines was a regular part of my work.

In my professional experience at Explo-IT, I collaborated closely with stakeholders and engineering teammates to deliver scalable web applications. This involved translating business needs into technical specifications, managing API integrations, implementing authentication and role-based access control, and ensuring smooth deployment on Linux servers. I also handled real-time features, payment gateway integration, and database optimization, always maintaining clear documentation and regular communication with the team.

One area that particularly interests me is the intersection of CRM systems with AI and automation. Through my project work, I have built AI-powered assistants and integrated machine learning features into full-stack applications. I am comfortable working with modern technology stacks and enjoy solving problems that require both technical understanding and clear communication with non-technical stakeholders.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments. I have attached my CV for your review and would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my experience aligns with your needs.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
