I am writing to apply for the Marketing Manager (w/m/d) Brand & Content role at Skalar. Your approach to rebuilding tax advisory from the ground up using automation, AI, and digital interfaces is exactly the kind of problem I find compelling. The idea of creating a brand that stands out in a traditionally conservative industry resonates with me.

My background is in software engineering and full-stack development, which gives me a practical understanding of how digital products are built and how technical teams think. I have worked on projects where I was responsible for translating complex backend logic into clear, user-facing interfaces. This experience has trained me to communicate effectively across technical and non-technical domains.

In previous work, I have built complete web applications from concept to deployment, including content-driven platforms and real-time dashboards. I have experience producing release notes, designing user interfaces, and maintaining visual consistency across multiple channels. I am comfortable working with tools like Figma, Tailwind CSS, and Next.js to create polished digital experiences.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I am looking for a role where I can take ownership, work closely with a founding team, and contribute to building something from an early stage. I have attached my CV for your review and would welcome the opportunity to discuss how I can contribute to Skalar’s growth.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
