I am writing to apply for the Scientific Marketing & Communications Specialist position at ELLA Biotech GmbH. Your company's focus on the chemical synthesis of oligonucleotides for research, diagnostics, and biotechnology is a field where clear, accurate communication of complex technical content is essential. I am drawn to the opportunity to combine my technical web development experience with a structured approach to digital marketing and content creation.

Through my professional experience as a Web Developer, I have managed and developed company websites, created and maintained content for brochures, presentations, and newsletters, and coordinated with external developers and internal teams. I am comfortable working with content management systems and digital marketing channels, and I understand the importance of translating specialized manufacturing and quality processes into clear, audience-appropriate messaging.

One area that particularly interests me is the responsibility for planning and evaluating digital marketing campaigns for your product lines and services. In my previous roles, I developed and implemented content strategies, analyzed campaign performance, and worked closely with technical support and management to ensure that all external communications were both technically accurate and aligned with business goals. I am confident in my ability to research market and technology trends in the oligonucleotide and diagnostics space and to represent the company at industry events.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments. I am eager to undergo the structured onboarding into oligonucleotide synthesis and your customer processes to build the deep technical understanding this role requires.

I have attached my CV for your review and look forward to the possibility of contributing to ELLA Biotech GmbH's continued growth and market presence.

Best regards, Md Shahanur Islam Shagor

Sincerely,
