I am writing to apply for the Influencer Marketing Manager position at LikeGroup GmbH. Your model of being an external creator-marketing team for major brands like Telekom and Deutsche Bahn is a compelling approach, and the opportunity to manage campaigns end-to-end within a 33-person team with flat hierarchies is exactly the kind of hands-on, high-impact environment I am looking for.

Although my professional background is in software engineering, my work has consistently required strong project management, cross-functional coordination, and clear communication with diverse stakeholders. In my most recent role as a Web Developer, I was responsible for managing the full delivery cycle of web applications, from initial requirement gathering and planning through to deployment and post-launch support. This involved coordinating with clients, designers, and engineering teams, managing timelines and budgets, and ensuring that the final product met quality standards and business objectives.

One area where I believe I can contribute directly is in campaign coordination and stakeholder management. I am accustomed to being the primary point of contact for clients, conducting regular status meetings, translating high-level goals into actionable plans, and keeping multiple workstreams on track simultaneously. This experience maps well to the responsibilities of briefing creators, managing production timelines, and maintaining quality across campaigns.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I have attached my CV for your review. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my project management and coordination skills can support LikeGroup’s growing campaign operations.

Sincerely,

Md Shahanur Islam Shagor
