I am writing to apply for the Customer Service Representative position at Point72. Your emphasis on creating a positive customer experience and supporting customers through email, chat, and phone aligns with my professional background in client-facing communication and remote collaboration.

In my previous roles as a Web Developer, I regularly communicated directly with stakeholders and team members to understand requirements, document interactions, and resolve issues efficiently. This experience has given me strong written and verbal communication skills, attention to detail, and the ability to maintain a professional and respectful tone in all interactions.

I am comfortable working independently in a remote environment and have experience using digital tools for documentation and communication across international teams. I am fluent in Bengali and English, with working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, which supports clear communication in diverse settings.

In addition to my communication experience, I bring strong computer proficiency and a methodical approach to documenting interactions and following procedures. I am accustomed to escalating complex issues to the appropriate teams and following company guidelines carefully.

I've attached my CV for your review. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how I can contribute to the Point72 team.

Best regards, Md Shahanur Islam Shagor

Sincerely,
