I am writing to apply for the Social Media Marketing Specialist role at Strange Face to lead the promotional campaign for Bublik. While my professional background is in software engineering, I bring a strong understanding of digital content strategy, visual design, and cross-platform coordination that aligns with this role.

Through my work as a full-stack developer, I have built and managed several web platforms where I was responsible for shaping the user-facing visual identity and ensuring consistent brand presentation. I used tools like Figma for design mockups and collaborated closely with creative teams to align technical execution with artistic vision.

One area that particularly interests me is the challenge of building a distinctive voice and visual identity for a bilingual art-house psychodrama. I understand that this is not a generic content brief, and I am comfortable working with directors and production teams to plan teasers, stills, BTS content, and talent features while tracking performance and adjusting strategy.

In addition to my technical experience, I work effectively across multidisciplinary teams and communicate clearly with both technical and non-technical stakeholders. I am fluent in Bengali and English, have working knowledge of Russian and Hindi, and enjoy collaborating in international and cross-cultural environments.

I have attached my CV for your review and would welcome the opportunity to discuss how I can contribute to the Bublik campaign.
